Report of Two days National level seminar on "Emerging perspectives in Fintech"

Department of commerce, Govt. college Mokeri conducted its sixth National seminar on the topic "Emerging perspectives in Fintech" on 30th and 31st Oct 2018. Faculties, Research scholars, PG students and all other stakeholders were invited to participate in the seminar. Technology has transformed the way we do pretty much everything from shopping to socializing and it's also turning the financial services industry on its head. Over the last few years, a crop of fintech startups has emerged, using technology to make it easier for people to invest, make payments and even get a loan.

Fintech means financial technology that describes an emerging financial services sector in the 21st century. Since the end of the first decade of the 21st century, the term has expanded to include any technological innovation in the financial sector, including innovations in financial literacy and education, retail banking, investment and even crypto-currencies like bitcoin.

Fintech, or financial technology, encompasses a wide of companies using software to provide financial services. Financial technology companies are generally characterized as being startups created to disrupt existing financial models and the larger financial corporations that are less integrated with technology. Though, larger corporations are increasingly recognizing the need for software solutions and are turning to fintech to increase and improve their financial service offerings. It is in this context the concept of 'Fintech' has been revolutionised in the area of finance. The conference gives rise to check the relevance of technological innovations in the highly complex financial regime.

The participants of the seminar were encouraged to contribute new ideas, concepts and opinions in the form of papers containing original, empirical or theoretical work. Papers were invited dealing with the following topics -

- Evolution of technology in Financial Markets
- Regulatory Sandboxes for FinTech in India
- FinTech Revolution to transform the Financial Services including processing of Instant Payments
- Mobile Payments; and Wallets
- FinTech: Drivers of Digital India
- Challenges of Cybersecurity in Banking
- FinTech and Transaction Environment
- International Payment Transformation: Ripple
- Role of FinTech in Financial Inclusion and Financial Integration,
- implications of FinTech Developments for Banks and Bank Supervision
- FinTech and RegTech: Significant trends in shaping Peer-To-Peer Transfers
- Crowdfunding, Know-Your-Customer (KYC)
- Fintech and Next-generation Retail Commerce
- Entrepreneurship Fintech and Investing.

The programme was formally inaugurated by Dr.K Parimalakanti, Associate Professor, Department of Commerce, Sri Krishna Adithya college of Arts&Science, Bharatiyar University. The function was presided over by the Hon. Principal Prof. Chithralekha and Sri. Vineesh A K (HOD Commerce) welcomed the gathering. Various heads of departments were also spoke on the occasion.
